

Volvo Cars makes the world's fourth most reliable engines

EVER HEARD RELIABILITY REV?
Volvo, powered by the 4th most reliable engines in the world

Volvo Cars has been listed as the fourth most reliable engine manufacturer by the British Insurance Agency 'Warranty Direct'.

CAR BRAND	PERCENT ERRORS	RISK OF FAILURE
Mercedes-Benz	0.84%	1 of 119
Volvo	0.90%	1 of 111
BMW	2.20%	1 of 45
Audi	3.71%	1 of 27

For more details click here or log on to volvocars.in

Volvo Cars finishes fourth when the British insurance agency Warranty Direct lists the most reliable engine manufacturers.

Warranty Direct has compiled a list of how often insurance companies will step in and cover the repair costs for various engine damage. In Volvo's case the figure is 1 in 111, which corresponds to an error rate of 0.9. Best of all manufacturers is Honda, with the rate of 1 in 344.

Worst of all automakers is MG Rover, followed by Audi. The likelihood of engine damage for Audi owners is 1 in 27, which corresponds to 3.71 percent.

Reliability - best engine manufacturers

Car brand, percentage error (%) Risk of failure (1 of xx)

- 1) Honda 0.29% 1 of 344
- 2) Toyota 0.58% 1 of 171
- 3) Mercedes-Benz 0.84% 1 of 119
- 4) Volvo 0.90% 1 of 111
- 5) Jaguar 0.98% 1 of 103
- 6) Lexus 0.99% 1 of 101
- 7) Fiat 1.17% 1 of 85
- 8) Ford 1.25% 1 of 80
- 9) 1.32% Nissan 1 to 76
- 10) Land Rover 1.38% 1 of 72

Reliability - worst engine manufacturers:

Car brand, percentage error (%) Risk of failure (1 of xx)

1) MG Rover 7.88% 1 of 13

2) Audi 3.71% 1 of 27

3) Mini 2.51% 1 of 40

4) Saab 2.49% 1 of 40

5) Vauxhall (Opel) 2.46% 1 of 41

6) Peugeot 2.26% 1 of 44

7) BMW 2.20% 1 of 45

8) Renault 2.13% 1 of 46

9) Volkswagen 1.91% 1 of 52

10) Mitsubishi 1.70% 1 of 59